COMMUNICATION, MA

School of Communication, College of Communication, Fine Arts & Media

Vision Statement
The School of Communication offers a Master of Arts degree emphasizing a blend of broad theoretical instruction and application of the communication discipline in all its iterations. Graduate students achieve in-depth knowledge of communication processes and effects and acquire the skills needed to discover new knowledge through research and other forms of scholarly activity and professional growth. Once coursework is complete, graduate students conduct original research for a thesis or project.

School of Communication graduate faculty offer an impressive blend of academic and professional experience. Faculty are actively involved in the discovery of new knowledge through publication in top scholarly journals. The faculty seek to cultivate students’ breadth and depth of knowledge about communication, as well as foster a spirit of free investigation.

If you are applying for a graduate assistantship, both admissions and assistantship application materials must be completed by February 1 (for Fall Semester) and October 1 (for Spring Semester).

Program-Specific Requirements
- Three (3) Letters of Recommendation - (A minimum of 1 letter from a faculty member of the applicant’s undergraduate program should be included if at all possible. Other letters should address an applicant’s ability to do advanced-level academic work.)
- Statement of Purpose - The Statement of Purpose should be 500 words in length and should answer the following questions:
  - What is your major or minor field(s) of study, overall GPA, and GPA within major, as well as all relevant experience?
  - What are your areas of scholarly interest and research?
  - What are your personal or professional plans after you complete the master’s degree?
  - What is your command of oral and written English? If a student does not hold a baccalaureate or other advanced degree from the U.S., OR a baccalaureate or other advanced degree from a pre-determined country on the waiver list, must meet the minimum language proficiency score requirement in order to be considered for admission.
  - A minimum score of 550 on the TOEFL PBT, 80 if internet-based, 6.5 if IELTS, or 53 if PTE is required.

Admission Status
- Unconditional Admission may be granted to a student whose record includes at least the following:
  - Certification of a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited institution
  - Documentation through official transcripts using a 4.0 grade point scale of having earned at least:
    - A 3.25 in communication or undergraduate major work.
    - Either a 3.0 overall undergraduate average GPA or a 3.25 average GPA in the last half of undergraduate credit hours, and
    - Inclusion of nine (9) to 15 undergraduate (junior or senior level) theory and/or research courses in communication (e.g., communication studies, speech communication, broadcasting, journalism, mass communication, media communication or studies, rhetoric) or a related field as approved by the graduate program chair (GPC) and/or the graduate admissions committee.

-  Provisional Admission may be granted for reasons of experience, maturity or other circumstances to a student who does not meet the unconditional admission standards. A student will not be admitted who does not meet UNO Graduate College provisional admission standards (a 2.75 GPA for both undergraduate major and minor).
  - The school’s graduate admission committee may require any one or any combination of the following in deciding whether or not to recommend provisional admission:
    - Completion of prescribed course(s) (not for graduate credit) with a grade of “B” (3.0/4.0) or better, with course(s) approved in advance by the GPC and/or the graduate admission committee.
    - Completion of the first 12 graduate hours of coursework with a grade of “B” (3.0/4.0) or better as a non-declared student.

The 12 hours of required courses listed below must be completed with an average grade of “B” or better:

Thesis Option

The core courses provide basic, intensive and broad coverage of communication as a field of advanced study. The core integrates mass and speech communication theories and research methodologies from all aspects of the discipline. If a student fails to achieve an average grade of “B” (3.0/4.0) in the overall core, the student may retake each core course with a grade below “B” once, and must obtain an average grade of “B” or higher to remain in the program. The core courses must be completed within the first 18-21 credit hours of a student’s program (This requirement may be waived for students entering the communication graduate program with approved graduate credits to be used in the plan of study).
Graduate Only Seminar
Students are required to take one graduate only (8xx0/9xx0 level with no undergraduate dual-listing) three credit seminar during their program. This course may either come from the School of Communication or another graduate program in consultation and advisement with the GPC.

Electives
Select 12 elective hours in consultation with the graduate program chair. These will be denoted as either; COMM, CMST, or JMC. No more than 9 hours from outside the school may be counted toward degree requirements. Electives must be completed with an average grade of "B" or better to maintain GPA requirements for program and university.

COMM 8990 THESIS 6
Total Credits 33

All candidates should carefully review the Graduate College requirements for forming the supervisory committee, submitting the Supervisory Committee and Thesis/Thesis Equivalent Proposal Approval Forms and final approval and submission of the thesis.
