URBAN STUDIES, MS

School of Public Administration, College of Public Affairs & Community Service

Vision Statement
Our graduates are social entrepreneurs, urban thinkers and agents of change. The Master of Science in urban studies (UBNS) is the degree for individuals desiring to make a difference in urban areas. UNO’s urban studies program is a professional degree that trains leaders to critically analyze urban problems and engage residents in the creation of innovative solutions to conditions in the human community, built environment and natural systems.

Electives
Urban studies is an interdisciplinary field. The UBNS strives to expose students to courses taught by faculty in the School of Public Administration who have expertise in urban studies, as well as faculty in other academic units. Students select five (5) elective courses with the approval of the UBNS chair from the following list based on interests in the human community, built environment or natural systems. This is subject to change depending on course availability, and prospective as well as current students should check the program’s website periodically for updates approved by the director of urban studies. Electives are intended to give students knowledge and skills that prepare them to manage projects and organizations. Electives currently include, but are not limited to the following:

Internship
Students who have not had at least two years full-time professional experience in the public or nonprofit sector (experience must have been in the sector of the student’s primary future career interest) are encouraged to complete an internship. The internship may be given as a supervised course of three credit hours in addition to the 37 hours required in the urban studies program. The internship is taken following completion of preparatory coursework as determined by the director of the urban studies program.
Total Credit Hours
Non-Thesis Option 37

Thesis Option: 40

UBNS 8000 SEMINAR IN URBAN STUDIES (3 credits)
This course provides an interdisciplinary overview of the forces influencing and influenced by urbanization and urbanism. (Cross-listed with GEOG 8830)
Prerequisite(s)/Corequisite(s): Not open to non-degree graduate students.

UBNS 8020 RACE, ETHNICITY, AND AMERICAN URBAN CULTURE (3 credits)
This course explores two central themes, race and ethnicity, which have played a dominant role in the shaping of American society and American culture. (Cross-listed with BLST 8020).
Prerequisite(s)/Corequisite(s): BLST 1000, BLST 1100, or permission by the instructor.

UBNS 8060 INTRODUCTION TO URBAN PLANNING (3 credits)
This course is an introduction to the development of urban planning as it has shaped and reacted to major trends in U.S. history. It provides students with major themes and traditions in the field of planning and includes planning practice, planning procedures and methods and contemporary issues in the field.
students.

UBNS 8200 COMMUNITY ORGANIZING AND DEVELOPMENT (3 credits)
This course focuses on various theories and applications of organizing communities and neighborhoods to effect change. Of particular interest is the role of engaging citizens in improving their communities.
students.

UBNS 8820 COMPARATIVE URBAN STUDIES (3 credits)
Emphasis is upon contrasting the cities of the developed and developing areas of the world
students.

UBNS 8940 DIRECTED RESEARCH IN URBAN STUDIES (1-3 credits)
The course is intended for advanced graduate students in urban studies.
It is especially suited for those in-career students who have had their internships waived and who might profit more by in-depth research on a problem of urban studies rather than additional classroom courses. (Cross-listed with GEOG 8840).
Prerequisite(s)/Corequisite(s): Completed 9 graduate hours in Urban Studies. Permission from the School. Not open to non-degree graduate students.

UBNS 8980 THESIS (1-6 credits)
A research project, designed and executed under the supervision of the chair and members of the graduate student’s Thesis Advisory Committee. In this project, the student will develop and perfect a number of skills including the ability to design, conduct, analyze, and report the results in writing (i.e., thesis) of an original, independent scientific investigation. The project plan must be approved by the student’s Thesis Advisory Committee.
Prerequisite(s)/Corequisite(s): Graduate student in UBNS and approval of Thesis Advisory Committee.
