Urban Studies, MS

School of Public Administration, College of Public Affairs & Community Service

Vision Statement
Our graduates are social entrepreneurs, urban thinkers and agents of change. The Master of Science in urban studies (UBNS) is the degree for individuals desiring to make a difference in urban areas. UNO's urban studies program is a professional degree that trains leaders to critically analyze urban problems and engage residents in the creation of innovative solutions to conditions in the human community, built environment and natural systems.
