

ENGLISH, BACHELOR OF ARTS

Each concentration has its own core requirements including ENGL 2410 or ENGL 2420, foundational English courses. All concentrations also include a literature, language studies, or creative nonfiction course. All concentrations require a capstone experience, including an internship, the senior paper/project, or student teaching.

English, Bachelor of Arts Requirements

The Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in English may be completed through one of four concentrations, each with some overlap in course requirements to allow students to migrate efficiently between concentrations.

- American Literature (<http://catalog.unomaha.edu/undergraduate/college-arts-sciences/english/english-ba/american-literature-conc/>)
- British/Irish/Anglophone Literature (<http://catalog.unomaha.edu/undergraduate/college-arts-sciences/english/english-ba/british-irish-anglophone-lit-conc/>)
- Creative Nonfiction (<http://catalog.unomaha.edu/undergraduate/college-arts-sciences/english/english-ba/creative-nonfiction-conc/>)

Concentration in Secondary English Teaching (<http://catalog.unomaha.edu/undergraduate/college-arts-sciences/english/english-ba/secondary-engl-teach-conc/>) (available exclusively as a double major with the BSED degree through CEHHS)

The English major with a concentration in Creative Nonfiction, Language Studies, American Literature, or British/Irish/Anglophone Literature may be added as a double major for students with a primary program of study in or outside the College of Arts and Sciences. For students pursuing a BSED through the College of Education, Health and Human Sciences, the English major is commonly added as a double major. Students should work with an advisor to ensure requirements for both programs are met through a careful selection of courses.

Students wishing to complete the Nebraska State Certification requirements to teach English at the 7-12 level now have the option to also earn a second major in English without adding additional time to their program of study. This partnership between CEHHS and the College of Arts and Sciences creates an efficient path for students who would like to earn the English major and prepare for Nebraska State Certification to teach in this area. Students declare the Bachelor of Science in Education with a major in Secondary Education (Secondary English 7-12 Endorsement) as their primary degree and program of study. They may then add English as a double major (not a dual degree) with a concentration in Secondary English Teaching. For details, see the Concentration in Secondary English Teaching.
