FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURE

The Department of Foreign Languages & Literature offers a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Foreign Languages and Literature with concentrations in: French, German, or Spanish. For all languages, a total of 30 upper-division (3000-4000 level) credit hours are required.

The department offers introductory through advanced courses in French, German, and Spanish, as well as courses through the intermediate level in Japanese. It should be noted that the Spanish minor may be earned on campus, entirely online, or a combination of the two. Chinese is offered at the beginning level. In addition, the department participates in such interdisciplinary programs as International Studies, Latino and Latin American Studies, Women’s and Gender Studies, Medical Humanities, and also offers summer courses in France, Germany, Canada, Mexico and Spain.

Double Majors for Secondary Education World Language Majors
Students pursuing a B.S. from the College of Education with a first major in Secondary Education (World Language-French or German or Spanish 7-12 Endorsement) and working toward Nebraska State Certification to teach in this area may also earn a second major in Foreign Languages and Literature by declaring that major with the College of Arts & Sciences Advising Center (https://www.unomaha.edu/college-of-arts-and-sciences/academic-advising-center/).

Students will complete 30 credit hours in French, German, or Spanish with grades of C or above (this is different from the Foreign Languages & Literature Department’s requirement of a minimum grade of C- or above). Students declaring this second major should work with their advisor to select courses that align with both programs and require no additional coursework on the part of the student.

Other Information
Courses in the 1110, 1120, 2110, 2120 sequences may not be taken out of order. Students must pass the prerequisite course with a grade of “C” or better before taking the next course in the sequence, and may not take an earlier course in any sequence for credit once they have received credit in a later course in any sequence. All 3000 and 4000 level courses may be taken for honors credit in cooperation with the University Honors Program.

There is a laboratory fee for all foreign language courses at the 1000 and 2000 levels.

Special Requirements
The Department of Foreign Languages and Literature does not accept transfer credits from any institution for its 1000/2000 level courses except for those as allowed by the College of Arts and Sciences. To enroll in any French, German, or Spanish course beyond 1110, a student who has not successfully completed the prerequisite courses at UNO must take the appropriate placement exam and qualify for the desired course. Native and heritage speakers of French, German or Spanish wishing to take a course in their language of nurture are exempt from this requirement. They are advised to make an appointment with an advisor in the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature for appropriate placement. All other students are subject to this requirement including transfer students. UNK/UNL students are not exempt from this requirement. The Department of Foreign Languages and Literature reserves the right to cancel the registration of any student who has not met the prerequisites for a course. Transfer courses at the 3000/4000 level are subject to the approval of a departmental adviser and the department chair. All foreign language courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better in order for the student to continue to the next course.

Residency
All majors in Foreign Languages and Literature must complete a minimum of 12 credit hours in their major language at the 3000 or 4000 level in residence at UNO.

All minors in Foreign Languages and Literature must complete a minimum of 9 credit hours in their minor language at the 3000 or 4000 level in residence at UNO.
